

I'm in support of XM radio. I drive a big rig from North Carolina to California and love to listen to NASCAR races. XM is the only way I can hear the entire race without losing station after station on FM. After leaving Tenn. going west you can forget hearing a race on FM stations. It would take an idiot to go back to FM for that reason alone. Get off the archaic band wagon and don't let big business control everything. Especially something as great as this. Talk about an advancement in nationwide early warning system in event of crisis. Nationwide without delay that no other system can match. Let us see you beat that argument! Even FM radio can not swing there system in gear for nationwide response as quick and with absolute 100% coverage. Thanks, Allan B. Crump
